Next Tuesday evening, the Musical Union will meet at Union School Hall to elect officers for the ensuing year.

THE NORMAL has opened with a good attendance. The professors are on hand. The prospects are flattering for successful results the present term and year.

The Baptist church was entered Thursday afternoon and the hymn books badly mutilated. The boys are known. They are travelling towards the Penitentiary.

Mr. O. E. Thompson says that the farmers who have used the Saginaw salt (see ads in COMMERCIAL) are much pleased with it. Sown on the land this fall next year will show rich results.

THE LATCH STRING OUT.—Our friends at home and abroad are invited to come in and see us during the Fair and see our new office. Our new presses will be running most of the time.

Friends of the P. M. Church will hold their quarterly meeting at 10.30 A. M. and 7. P. M. Rev. C. Roffe will preach in the morning and administer the sacrament. In the evening, short discourses from several.

J. Bass, Pastor of the A. M. E. Church in this city, has been returned for another year, by his annual conference that recently met at Evansville, Ind. He was welcomed back by his church and congregation.

Letters remaining in P. O. Sept. 15th:

John Baker, Edwin Butt,
Genie Cal, Wm. Crane,
J. K. Davis, Georgiana Day,
George A. Stevens.

The runaway, Mr. Herald according to the authorities was seen in Detroit alive. There are various rumors afloat. Dead or alive he gave himself away in patronizing our saloons. Later, there is no doubt but he is alive.

The family of Rev. Mr. Scott, have been severely afflicted, suffering from the ague himself, his wife's life has been despaired of. Other members of the household have also been sick. We are glad to learn that they are all convalescent.

One night last week some evil minded persons shaved the tails of two horses and cut off the tails of two cows belonging to Alonzo Sinday, near Bridgewater. Mr. Sinday is an active member of the reform club, and this, it is thought affords a clue to the perpetrators of the mischief.

The Rev. J. R. Hibbard D. D. of Detroit will preach to-morrow morning and evening at the New Jerusalem chapel. The public is cordially invited, the prevailing idea concerning the "New Church" is so wide of the mark, that persons interested will do well to attend and hear Dr. Hibbard. Com.

MCCULLOUGH.—He has a winning card in Detroit. The entire press of that city mention both the great actor and his company in the highest terms of praise. They say that McCullough in Virginius—the drama at our opera house next Monday evening—arose to the heights of sublimity, entrancing the vast throng present. Tickets for sale at Dodges.

Rev. Mr. Washburn at the urgent request of the pastors in the Detroit Dist., was appointed to the presiding Eldership. He will make a good one. His successor Rev. E. Bourns, is a stranger to most of our citizens. But he is a man of ability or he would not have received the appointment. We welcome him to plenty of hard work in this city and vicinity. Not that we are peculiarly wicked, but Satan has a high seat here as every where else among sinful mortals.

The completest display was witnessed at A. Williams & Co., on Tuesday ever seen in this city. In fact no town outside of Detroit in the State beats their establishment in a nice selection of choice goods and a fine arrangement. The front windows, especially the left on entering, lighted up with fine chandeliers is gorgeous. The ladies cannot but be pleased. Mr. W. estimates that a thousand ladies visited the Store "Opening day."

Geo. Simpson, aged about 54 years, fell dead last Wednesday while working in the field on Geo. Moorman's farm. He had been joking with his fellow workers all the morning. When about 10 A. M., he called a comrade to assist him in raising a shock of corn that had fallen, when the helper reached him he was lying on the ground. In a few minutes he breathed his last. The home of Mr. S. was in Canada. His sisters came and took his remains home with them for burial.

C. King, Sr., stuck his head into the post-office window, on Tuesday, and asked the Postmaster "if he was suffering from an attack of bilious colic," and before the dignitary had time to reply he discovered the editor of this paper, and said, "and there is another." Not so, friend King. The result shows that the Hancock vote is a mere cipher in Maine. The postoffices are still a long way out of the reach of our Democratic brethren. The Greenback party can't crow either. The Republicans have made a large gain over last year, way ahead of their plurality vote; obtained an undisputed large majority in the Legislature, ensuring a U. S. Senator; elected three out of five congressmen; the Democrats, by aid of Greenback votes, only one. The Maine election has demonstrated that Hancock has a slim show of election, judging from the paucity of Democrats in Maine.

PROPHETIC.

As goes Maine, so goes the Union." C. R. Whitman Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney. Latest from Maine seems to confirm the opinion that Maine is Republican in all its departments.

Mrs. Caven has returned from a visit in Flat Rock, is intending to make Ypsilanti her home this winter.

Frank Showerman spent last Tuesday in Chicago.

By an oversight the two following notices were omitted last week. Miss Caroline Weed has returned from her pleasant visit of several weeks in Ohio.

Mrs. F. A. Carson is visiting relatives at Carlton and Maybee.

Edwin S. Hoskin, Editor of the Belleville Gazette says:

Prof. Malcom McVicar, principal of the Potsdam (N. Y.) Normal School, has been offered and has accepted the principalship of the Michigan State Normal school, at Ypsilanti, made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Estabrook, and will enter upon the duties of the position about November 1st. Prof. McVicar was principal of the Brockport (N. Y.) Collegiate Institute during our residence in the town, and we know him intimately and well, as a thoroughly practical and successful teacher, an able and eloquent christian minister and a noble man. He has since had several years of practical experience in Normal school work, and ranks high among the best educators of the East. In calling him to preside over one of the grandest and best of Michigan's public institutions, the State boardof education has honored the State more than the man. We welcome Prof. McVicar to our State.

NORMAL ITEMS.

School opened Tuesday, a good attendance of new students.

The old students did not begin to appear until Wednesday forenoon, many have not arrived.

The societies will not begin their meetings until next week, when Mr. Hettinger of the Lyceum, Mr. Hall of the Zealots and Miss Waite of the Pleiades will deliver their inaugeral addresses.

The "boys" heartily welcome the fall in the price of school books, and since they saved a little money they think seriously of going to hear McCullough.

If one comes to school early in the morning or is about the doors at recess, he will easily learn that "Normalites" are not so very ignorant in political matters, and that Hancock is not the man, and that Garfield is.

Mr. Albert Nihland, a former Normal student, and Mr. T C. Williams, a common-school-course graduate, later Principal at Napoleon, have returned to review old acquaintances and pursue a higher course of studies. Mr. Lincoln Avery and Walter C. Hewitt besides others, all former students here, are also enrolled.

The president and vice-president of the Lyceum have arrived, and together with the other officers, say they are intending to make the society "boom" this term. They hope every student will take hold and do solid work, and not come merely to enjoy the social. The committee on resolutions will endeavor to furnish an entirely new list of questions to be discussed, and hence it will be more interesting than if the old ones were drummed up again.

Most of the graduating class of '80 have secured situations. Some we give: C. T. Grawn, Plymouth; S. F. Stuff, Bellville; W. D. Clisbe, Birminghrm; C. H. T. Atwood, L'Anse; J. N. Mead, Franklin Minn; M. W. Smith, Dowagiac; G. A. Shartau, Farmington; Blanche Cudworth, Manistee; Carrie Calkins, White Hall; May Castle, Au Sable. The highest salary paid to a gentleman is $900; to a lady, $450. May the class of '81 do as well.

By the neat appearance of the rooms, stairs, and blackboards; by the improvements in the yard in the way of lamp posts, and the clearing of weeds, and by the broken lights of glass which have been replaced, one may easily see that Mr. Vroman, the janitor has not been idle during his vacation (?)

DIED.

COOK.—In this city, Sept. 15th, 1880, Mrs. MARIA COOK, aged 74.

Mrs. Cook was born at Wallington Vt., in 1806. At the age of 15 she united with the church. Fifty years ago she became a resident of this city, then a ville. Not long after she united with the Presbyterian church. Some trouble sprung up in that church in regard to the resignation of the pastor, Rev. I. M. Weed. This led to her severing her connection with this body, and both she and husband united with St. Luke's church, being confirmed Feb. 15th 1848, just eight months after the arrival of the present rector, Dr. Wilson. She was one of twelve who united at that time with St. Luke's. Five of them have gone home to their reward, one of whom was her husband. Only two are now residing in the city. Sixty-six years she was a faithful disciple of Christ.

The castes is of best quality of metal, triple silver plate, and is valued at $25.00. Littlefield & Weeks have this caster displayed on their showcase, and it is attracting a great deal of attention. It certainly is a handsome present for any one to own. Call at their place and see it. 858–4t

From Our Washington Correspondent.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—Since the death of that eminent scholar and soldier, Gen. A. J. Myer, familliarly known as "Old Probabilities," the weather in this country seems to be running wild. First we almost melted with the themometer up to 100 degrees in the shade, for nearly two weeks, and now the blasts of winter are around us and overcoats are in great demand. If Capt. Howgate intends to take charge of the weather bureau it is time he began. Perhaps as there has been some opposition to his promotion to the vacancy caused by the death of General Myer, he is letting the weather go at odds and ends as a punishment to his opponents. That he is in every respect competent to fill this vacancy we have no doubt and it is a matter of regret that any opposition should be made to his prompt promotion. After Capt. Howgate there is but one man who should be called to the position, and his name we have not seen mentioned as yet. We refer to Col. Garrick Mallery, who for years was connected with the Signal Service of the army, second only in rank to Gen. Myer. Col. Mallery is a man of high attainments as a scholar, and is a most diligent student. He is now and has been for three or four years engaged in the study of the language and habits, methods of living, etc., of the Indian tribes, and by his diligent research has given to the world many curious facts in relation to our red brothers of the west. At some future time we shall give you some facts in relation to this subject which will no doubt be of great interest to your readers. While it would be a great pity to take Col. Mallery from his present work, yet he is deserving of the promotion to the head of the Signal Service.

If any doubt exists in the minds of the intelligent voters as to the amount of rebel war claims that will be presented and allowed in the event of the success of the Democratic ticket in the light of the fact that "history repeats itself," it is well to refer to old records of the Democratic regime and deduce therefrom lessons of instruction for the present and future.

The archives of the Treasury Department contain claims to the amount of sixty millions of dollars paid to the inhabitants of Georgia and Florida for losses alleged to have been sustained during the war with the Seminole and Creek Indians (better known as the Florida war) which occurred during the years 1834 to 1838. The field of military operations was principally in the Everglades of Florida, the hunting grounds of "Billy Bow-legs'" and his savage warriors. At that early period in the history of the "peninnsular state" it cannot be supposed that many white setlers had established their homes in such an almost impenetrable morass, constructed costly dwellings, and surrounded themselves with all the luxuries of life, yet a persual of these records discloses the astounding fact that nearly half a century ago that portion of the solid south now inhabited principally by alligators and wild hogs, was as thickly populated as a county in Massachusetts, covered with costly buildings, abounding in choice cattle, and rich in all the products of of the soil, all of which were lost or destroyed by the war. A Democratic administration allowed these claims on the affidavits of the HONEST and HONORABLE members of the party. And the good people of the whole country were taxed to pay them. The facts are at hand, and cannot be gainsayed, to prove that more money was paid on the fraudulent claims of these ancestors of southern rebels than would be required to purchase at fair value all the property, real and personal, belonging to the residents of the whole state of Florida. Ways that were darker and tricks that were meaner than were ever used by the heathen Chinee were employed by these people to defraud the Government. I have no doubt that after having become enriched by such a steal, these claimants were willing to be forgiven, wanted to shake hands across the bloody chasm with those who accuse them of dishonesey and perjury, and were extremely anxious to have peace. Is it not extremely suggestive of what we may expect of their descendants should an opportunity be given?

The Democratic party is the party of the South; all rebels were Democrats during the war and nearly alll Democrats were rebels. We will admit there were many Democrats who entered the Union ranks, but nearly all graduated from the war, Republicans, in fact only one man of any importance remained in the Democratic party and he is now their candidate for President. If Gen. Hancock should be elected he would be forced to recognize the solidity of the Southern Democracy by placing in his cabinet and in positions of trust and power rebel Brigadeers, Colonels etc., as a fair representation from the masses who placed him in office, and God knows in the light of history what would be the result.

PARKS.

President Hayes made a remarkable speech at the reunion of the Ohio boys in blue at Columbus. He says:

If we take a survey of the globe we shall find everywhere, among civilized nations especially, many people who are eagerly looking forward to the time when they can emmigrate to some more favored land. Only one of the great nations is in no danger of loosing its capital and labor and skill by emigration. We find only one which by immigration, is gaining rapidly in numbers, wealth, and power. All are losing by this cause except the United States. The United states alone is gaining. Other nations see their people going, going. We see, from every quarter, the people of other countries coming, coming, coming:

There is one flag, and in all the world only one, whose protection good men and women born under it will never willinly leave. There is one flag, and only one in the world, whose protecting folds, good men and women born under every other flag that floats under the whole heavens, are eagerly and gladly seeking. That flag, so loved at home, so longed for by millions abroad, is the old flag under which we marched, to save, what in our soldier days we were fond of calling "God's country!"

It is easily seen what it is that attracts this immigration. It goes where good land is cheap; where labor and capitol find profitable employment; where peace and social order prevail; and where civil and religious liberty are secure. The recent census, whose results we are now getting, gives us the answer. That census shows us parts of our country, where land is cheap and where capital and labor are needed, that are not rapidly increasing in population. In these states it will be found that two things are wanting—the means for popular education are not sufficiently provided, and the good order of society is disturbed by a practical popular refusal to accept the results of the war for the Union. These two defects, wherever they prevail in our American society, are hostile to the increase of population and to prosperity. They are found generally to exist together. Where popular education prevails the equal rights "amendments to the constitution of the United States, embodying the resuits of the war, are inviolable."

When our revolutionary fathers adopted the ordinance of 1787, for the government of the northwest territory, out of which Ohio and four other great states have been carved, they were not content with merely putting into organic law a firm prohibition against slavery, and providing effectual guarantees of civil and religious liberty, but they established, as the corner stone of the free institutions they wished to build, this article: "Religion, morality and knowledge being necesity to good government and the hippiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." Unfortunately for the complete success of reconstruction in the south this stone was rejected by its builders.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

COMMERCIAL 25 cents to Jan. 1st, 1881.

Hancock is dangling at the small end of the Greenback kite.

Decrease of the National Debt during August, $12,027,167.59.

The Free Press out with rooster over a Greenback victory, Shades of Hercules.

Way down in Maine the Democracy are on the leetle end of the leetle greenback kite.

In view of the census frauds in South Carolina, the President proposes to order a new enumeration.

The alliance of the Democracy with the Greenback party, will scare the business men of the country.

Henry Clews in his circular says that the disposition to buy stocks on speculation has met with a check. He says that the increase in the wheat crop of this country will be from thirty-five to forty milions over 1879.

When the first news came from Maine, an old veteran republican said to another younger but just as prominent "It is too bad." Said the latter "I am glad of it. It will teach the republicans to watch as well as pray."

Hon. Henry Waldron, who represented this Congressional district in Congress twelve years, died last Monday at his residence in Hillsdale. There is universal mourning among his fellow citizens. He was an honorable, able, and esteemed representative.

It was not the infintesimal small Democratic vote in Maine that reduced the Republican vote and placed them behind a few hundred votes on Governor. It was the Prohibition vote that did the thing. These prohibitionists voted on principle, not dreaming of postoffices.

The Democrats of California are so contemptibly mean as not to recognize President Hayes, though a few individual members of the party did so. So says the San Francisco Chronicle, a Democratic paper, which bitterly opposed such recognition. The paper was sent us by Mr. H. C. Camp.

One of the biggest frauds is the constant assertion of the Democratic press that Hayes was elected by fraud. The commission which decided who was justly elected President was the creation of the Democratic party in Congress. It was strongly opposed by the radical leaders and press of the Republican party to the bitter end. It was hoisted upon the country by Democratic votes and Democratic Congressmen dared not crush their own bantling. It is true they thought in the commission of fifteen they had a nice thing. They had a sure thing because the fifteenth man would be David Davis. Here is the rub and here is the fraud. The good Lord hung them on their own gallows.

The Democratic press, notably the Sentinel and Ann Arbor Democrat, crow over the great victory in Maine. They are very careful not to state the truth. 1st. That the Republicans have elected three members of Congress, the Greenbackers one, and the Democrats one, same as two years ago. 2d. The Republicans have the legislature by a large majority. Senate—Republican 22, Fusionists 9. House—Republican 82, Fusionists 27. Plaisted for Governor has a minimum of less than 50 and probably defeated. The Republicans have made a gain on the vote of last year of over ten per cent. How much is that to crow over? Set Maine down for Garfield in November. While you are about it neighbors tell the the truth and shame the devil.

A GREENBACK VICTORY IN MAINE.

The Hancock forces are driven to the rear. They number but a minimum per centage of the voters. It is a Weaver victory. The Repuplicans came out second best but will carry the state for Garfield in November.

The Democracy hang themselves on the Greenback kite, clear to the tail end, and then hollow at the top of their voice, "Democratic victory." The fact is the Democrats are nowhere in Maine. On local questions the Greenbackers permitted the fraction of the voters in the Democratic party—for it is an infinitessimel vote—to help them to a victory. Upon great, National questions, and when it comes to giving Hancock a boost, it will be a horse of another color.

DUTIES OF THE CITIZEN.

The citizen who is not interested in the government and welfare of the republic is unworthy to live in it. "Indifference is a crime." What I do, my individual action and vote, goes to fix the destiny of the nation. Every voter should weigh the matter as if upon his individual action rested the pillars of the nation, its rise or downfall. How many deposit their ballot without a thought as to what the effect will be. Some paltry scamps—things, not men—sell their votes to the highest bidder. They yield themselves, voluntarily, soul and body, to the designs of wicked men. They are chattels, in the narket. We will not give our opinion of the purchaser. He is too vile to be recognized as a man and not worthy to be called a loyal citizen of this government. The party that upholds frauds, a false count, tissue ballots, debars a citizen from depositing just one vote at each election, is just as vile.

The future of this government depends upon the morality and intelligence of the people. Its base is the individual christian man, acting up to his religious convictions at the ballot box as well as in churches or the prayer meeting. The man who don't vote, dont express his political prerogative, in this country is no man. He is emasculated—no sense of responsibility—no proper realization of the demands of citizenship in a free country.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.

MANITOU SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 12, 1880.

MY DEAR GEN. LOGAN—I will be going east the latter part of September, and will gladly attend any meeting intended to further the success of the ticket headed by Garfield and Arthur.

I agree with you, that it will not do to be beaten now. We should never be beaten until every man who counts or represents those who count in the enumeration to give representation in the electoral college can cast his vote just as he pleases, and can have it counted just as he cast it.

Yours truly, U. S. GRANT.

Garfield on the Terrible Sacrifice.

Suppose your country, in the awfully embodied form of majestic law, should stand above you and say, "I want your life, come up here on the platform and offer it," how many would walk up before that majestic presence and say, "here I am; take this life and use it for your great needs?" [Applause.] And yet almost 2,000,000 men made that answer [applause], and a monument stands yonder to commemorate that answer. That is one of its meanings.

But, my friends, let me try you a little further. To give up life is much, for it is to give up wife, and home, and child, and ambition. But let me test you this way further. Suppose this awfully majestic form should call out to you and say, "I ask you to give up health and drag yourself, not dead, but half-alive, through a miserable existence for long years, until you perish and die in your crippled and helpless condition. I ask you to volunteer to do that." It calls for a higher reach of patriotism and self-sacrifice, but hundreds of thousands of you soldiers did that. That is what the monument means also.

But let me ask you to go one step further. Suppose your country should say: "Come here on this platform, and in my name and for my sake consent to be idiots. [A voice—Hear! Hear!] Consent that your very brain and intellect shall be broken down into hopeless idiocy for my sake." How many could be found to make that venture? And yet thousands, and that with their eyes wide open to the horrible consequences, obeyed that call; and let me tell how 100,000 of our soldiers were prisoners of war, and many of them when death was stalking near, when famine was climbing up into their hearts, and idiocy was threatening all that was left of their intellects, the gates of their prison stood open every day if they would quit, desert their flag, and enlist under the flag of the enemy, and out of 180,000 not two per cent ever received the liberation from death, starvation, idiocy, all that might come to them; but they took all these horrors and all these sufferings in preference to going back upon the flag of their country and the glory of its truth. [Applause.] Great God, was ever such measure of patriotism reached by any man on this earth before? [Applause.]

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OBEDIENT TO THE SOUTH.

Can the Democratic party be trusted to resist or deny the demands of the south?

The south demanded the annexation of Texas. The Democracy did its bidding.

The south demanded a war with Mexico. The Democratic party forced it.

The south demanded the repeal of the Missouri compromise. The Democratic party helped to repeal it.

The south demanded that slavery should be nationalized. The Democratic party assented to it.

The south demanded that Kansas should be made a slave state. The Democratic party tried to make it so.

The south demanded the right to destroy Abolition and Republican documents found in its mails. The Democratic party was silent while it did it.

The south insisted that the Union was but a rope of sand to be broken by any state at will. The Democratic party assented to the doctrine.

The south denied that the government had the power to coerce a seceding state. A Democratic President and the Democratic party agreed with it.

The south denied the right of the government to emancipate the slaves. The Democratic party sided with it.

The south denied the power of the government to reconstruct the southern states on a basis of loyalty and freedom. The Democratic party joined in the denial.

The south claimed the right to occupy seats in congress while the blood of the war was yet dripping from its garments. The Democratic party insisted it had this right.

The south, at the end of the war, claimed that the government had no right to demand guarantees for the future. The Democratic party said the same thing.

The south claimed the right to exclude all colored people from participation in the government. The Democratic party agreed.

The south claimed the right to exclude colored people from juries. Again the Democratic party agreed.

The south claimed the right to exclude colored people from public conveyances and places of public resort. And the Democratic party sustained this claim.

The south insisted upon putting rebels who served in the Mexican war, including Jefferson Davis, upon the pension rolls. And Democrats voted for this.

The south has insisted that the Democrats should be deaf and dumb and blind to the horrible methods which have produced a solid south. And the Democrats have been so.

The list of southern demands is almost endless, but it has not yet exhausted humiliating Democratic acquiescence. That party has been the servant of the south. It has crouched at its command; it has wallowed at its order; it has been pliant to its touch and obedient to its directions. No instance can be pointed out where the Democracy has made honorable resistance to any one of the most outrageous and indefensible of southern demands. Not one! How then can it be trusted when the south stands before it with its hunereds of millions of claims, and its demand that the war legislation shall be stricken from the statute books?—Post and Tribune.

The independent voters of the country are supporting the republican ticket. The shrewd, practical business men, who have no strong political affiliations, will vote for Garfield, on the principle of letting well enough alone.

Don't Make a Mistake.

Why will you use salves and lotions, and other outward appliances for the cure of skin diseases? The relief thus obtained can only be temporary. Why not strike at the root of all skin diseases by getting your blood and liver in a healthy, vigorous condition? This can only be done effectively and thoroughly by the use of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. $45, 1 yr.

THE NEW SCHOOLMA'AM.

"The new schoolma'am's coming—the schoolma'am's coming!" shouted a dozen voices ot the close of a half hour's faithful watch to catch a glimpse of our new teacher. Every eye was turned to her with the most scrutinizing glance—for the children, as well as others, always form an opinion of a person, particularly of a teacher, at first sight.

"How tall she is" exclaimed one.

"Ho, I ain't afraid of her, nor a dozen like her," cried the "big boy" of the school.

"Nor I either," cried the big boy's little ally, "I could lick her easy enough, couldn't you, Tom?"

"Yes, and I will, too, if she goes to touch me."

"Hush," cried one of the litte girls, "she will hear you."

By this time she had neariy reached the door round which we clustered, and every eye was fixed upon her face with an eager yet bashful gaze, uncertain, as yet, what verdict to pass upon her.

"Good morning, children," she said, in the kindest voice in the wrdld, while her face was lighted by the sweetest smile imaginable. "This is a beautiful morning to commence school, is it not?"

"I know I shall love her," whispered a little pet in my ear.

We all followed her into the school-room, except Tom Jones and his ally, who watched until the rest were seated, and then came in with a swaggering, noisy gait, and a sort of dare-devil, saucy look, as much as to say, "who cares for you."

Miss Wescott looked at them kindly, but appeared not to notice them further. After a short prayer and reading a chapter in the Bible, she passed round the room and made some inquiry of each in regard to themselves and their studies,

"And what is your name?" she asked, laying her hand upon Tom's head, while he sat with his hands in his pockets, swinging his body forwards and backwards.

"Tom Jones," he shouted at the top of his voice.

"How old are you, Thomas?" she asked.

"Just as old agin as half," answered Tom, with a saucy laugh.

"What do you study, Thomas?"

"Nothing."

"What books have you?"

"None."

Without appearing to be at all disturbed by his replies, Miss Wescott said, "I am glad that I am to have one or two large boys in my school; you can be of great assistance to me. Thomas, if you will stop a few moments after school this afternoon, we will talk over a little plan that I have formed."

This was a mystery to all, and particularly to Tom, who could not comprehend how he could be useful to anybody, and for the first time in his life he felt as if he was of some importance in the world. He had always been called the "bad boy" at school, and he took a sort of pride in being feared by the children and dreaded by the teacher.

Miss Wescott at once comprehended his whole character, and began to shape her plans accordingly. She maintained that a boy, who at twelve years of age made himself feared among his schoolfellows, was capable of being made something of. Heretofore all influences had conspired to make him bad, and perhaps a desperate character; she was determined to transform his character by bringing opposite influences to work upon him; and to effect this, she must first gain his confidence, which could not be done in a better way than letting him feel that she placed confidence in him.

When school was out more than half the scholars lingered about the door, wondering what Miss Wescott had to say to Tom Jones. He had often been bidden to remain after school, but it was always to receive punishment or a severe lecture, and nine times out of ten he would jump out of the window before half of the scholars were out of the room; but it was evidently for a different purpose that he was to remain now, and no one wondered what it could be more than Tom Jones.

"Don't you think, Thomas, that our school-room would be a great deal pleasanter if we had some evergreens to hang around it; something to make it cheerful?" asked Miss Wescott.

"Yes'm, and I know where I can get plenty of them."

"Well, Thomas, if you will have some here by eight o'clock to-morrow morning, I will be here to help you put them up, and we will give the children a pleasant surprise. Here are some books I will give you, Thomas; you may put them in your drawer; they are what I want you to study."

"But I can't study geography and history," exclaimed Tom, confused, "I never did."

"That is the reason why you think you can not," replied Miss Wescott. "I am quite sure you can and you will love them, I know."

"Nobody ever cared whether I learned anything or not before," said Tom, with some emotion.

"Well, I care," said Miss Wescott, with earnestness; "you are capable of becoming a great and good man; you are forming your character for life, and it depends upon yourself what you become. The poorest boy in this country has an equal chance with the wealthiest, and his circumstances are more favorable for becoming eminent, for he learns to depend upon himself. I will assist you all I can in your studies, Thomas, and I know you will succeed; remember that I am your friend, and come to me in every difficulty."

Tom Jones had not been brought up; he had come up, because he had been born into the world and couldn't help it; but as for any mental or moral training, he was as ignorant of it as a wild bramble of a pruning knife. His father was an intemperate, bad man, and his mother a totally inefficient woman. At home he received nothing but blows, and abroad nothing but abuse. His bad passions were therefore all excited and fostered, and his good ones were never called out. He always expected that his teachers would hate him, so he aroused anew his combative powers to oppose them, and he had made up his mind to turn "the new schoolma'am out of doors." When, therefore, Miss Westcott said she was glad to have him in her school he was amazed, and that she should manifest such an interest for him and give him a set of books, was perfectly incomprehensible to him. Miss Westcott understood his position and character, and determined to modify them. She felt that he was equally capable of good and bad actions, though the bad now predominated. She knew that his active mind must be busy; one might as well think of chaining the lightning as bending down by force that wild spirit to his books. She would give him employment; but such as would call out a new train of ideas and thoughts. He must feel that he was doing good for others' sake, and that he was not guided alone by his own wayward will, and yet there must be no appearance of restraint upon him; he must choose to do good.

Tom Jones went home that night with a new feeling in his breast; for the first time in his life he felt that he was capable of of rising above his present condition, and becoming somewhat greater and better than he then was. His mind became inundated with new and strange emotions, and like a mighty river turned from its course his thoughts and energies from that hour sought a new direction.

The next morning he was up with the dawn, and when Miss Westcott arrived at the school house, she found Tom Jones there with his evergreens.

"Good morning, Thomas," she said, kindly—"so you are here before me; you must have risen early, and I see you have found some beautiful evergreens. Now, if you will help me hang them, we will have the room all arranged by nine o'clock."

"I have brought a hammer and some nails," said Tom; "I thought we should need some."

"Yes, so we shall; I am glad you thought of it," replied Miss Westcott.

That day every scholar looked amazed to see Tom Jones actually studying his book and hear him answer several questions correctly, and they were still more confounded when at recess Miss Westcott said:

"You will take care of these little children, will you not, and see that they do not get hurt? You must be their protector."

One would as soon think of setting a wolf to guard a flock of lambs as Tom Jones to take care of little children.

"Well," exclaimed Sam Evans, "I never saw such a schoolma'am in all the days of my life; did you, Tom?"

"No," replied Tom, "but I wish I had, and I would have been a different boy from what I am now, but I am going to study now and learn something. Miss Westcott says I can, and I am determined to try."

I was astonished to notice the effect that Miss Westcott's treatment of Tom had upon the scholars. They began to consider him of some special importance, and to feel a sort of respect for him which they manifested, first, by dropping the nickname, Tom, and substituting Tommy, which revealed certainly a more kindly feeling toward him.

In less than a week Miss Westcott had the school completely under control, yet it was by love and respect that she governed, and not by an iron rule; she moved among her scholars a very queen, and yet so gained her confidence and esteem that it did not seem to them submissive to another's will, but the promptings of their own desire to please. One glance of her dark eye would have quelled an insurrection, and one smile made them happy for a day.

Julia Westcott understood human nature. She made it a study, as every teacher ought to do. She rooted out error and prejudice from the minds of her pupils, showed them the evils of sin, and the beauty of virtue, the advantages of education and the consequence of ignorance; taught them their capabilities and responsibilities, and she adapted her instructions to their capacities and necessities.

And thus she went on year after year, scattering good seed into good ground, and she reaped an abundant harvest. From many a home and high place came a blessing upon her; and there is no one who breathes her name with greater reverence or remembers her with more grateful affection than Tom Jones, who has filled with ability one of the highest judicial offices in the Union, and freely acknowledges that he owes his present character and position to her treatment and instructions.

A "Handy" thing to have in the house is a jar or bottle of lime-water. Pour water over unslacked lime (the quantity is not important, as only a certain amount will be slacked), and cork up for use. A spoonful of the clear liquid stirred into milk, cream, or bread sponge in danger of souring, will prevent that catastroph. It also cleanses bottles, etc., that have an unpleasant odor. A person who needs milk, but whose digestion is so weak as not to manage it, will find no. inconvenience if into a glass of the lacteal fluid is stirred a wineglass of lime-water. The defference in taste is not perceptible.

Persons who are unable to procure ice may keep a roll of butter perfectly firm in the hottest weather by placing the roll or pot of butter on a soup-plate, and for a cover take a large-sized red flower-pot. Soak it in cold water twenty-four hours. Then wrap a large piece (at least a square yard) of thick flannel, which has been soaked in water an hour all around the out side of the pot, and tie it on tightly with twine, and turn it over the butter-plate. The flower-pot should be larger than the rim of the plate so as to cover it completely. If the plate is set on a cool cellar-floor, it will keep the butter fresh and cool while it lasts. All the care that is needed is to wet the flannel so as to keep the flower pot moist.

Daniel Parkhurst suffered a terribly excruciateing death in a lime kiln at Saginaw. Pounding on top of the kiln it caved in and let him down into the fiery pit of death, and in fifteen minutes he was roasted alive.

The first gun has been fired. The battle was fought yesterday in Vermont. [Applause.] You have already heard the echoes of the cannon fired upon the Green mountains. That same battle is to be fought in all our northern states, and I venture to make the prediction that on Monday next Maine will show the same result. [Applause.] In a few weeks more Indiana will speak in thunder tone in the same way. Against the solid south will be found a solid north.—Sen. Baldwin.

"Since the Republican party has carried us to the point where we now stand, we can't afford to get away from it."

These are the exact words of the Hon. Frank Landers, the Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, used in a speech delivered by him at Bedford, Ind., on Wednesday, August 11. It is a significant declaration.

Alabama—92,000, shot guns and fraud.
Vermont—25,000, conscience and schoolhouse,—Post and Tribune.

The men who cheered every time the union armies suffered disaster are the men expected to supply 138 electoral votes for Hancock. Will any of our readers join that crowd to furnish the rest that he must have to be elected?—Cincinnati Commercial.

Will those who remember the brutal and cowardly assault upon Charles Sumner by Bully Brooks, also remember that English of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for Vice-President, voted against the expulsion of Brooks from Congress?—Cincinnati Commercial.

The Utica (N. Y.) Herald gives the response of the loyal north as to the issues on which the presidential campaign is conducted in 1880: "Consider what Lincoln and Sumner and Wilson and Seward would do were they alive. Consider what the thousands who died that the Union might live would do. Hear the cries that come up from Andersonville and Libby prisons: The principles for four years staked on battle-fields are now in the scales of the ballot."

WOMEN AS LAWYERS.

Though Old Mr Fogy has long questioned woman's fitness to practice law, and her opinions concerning legal matters, no one has ever questioned her opinion concerning Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women freely affirm that the Prescription is a positive cure for those "dragging-down" sensations, and the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to their sex. The Favorite Prescription is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 14th, 1879.
DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.
Dear Sir—I was treated by four different physicians without avail for disease of the liver and uterus. Some time ago I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription and Discovery, being at the time, confined part of the time to my bed. At first my improvement was slow but, I now find myself well after the use of four bottles of each of the medicines. With many, many thanks,
I am, very respectfully,
MARY E. GRACE.

A CROSS-BABY.

Nothing is so conductive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

MAINE NEWS.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, billiousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Those afflicted should give them a fair trirl, and will become thereby enthusiastic in the praise of their curative qualities.—Portland Argus.

TWO ORGANS,

Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen twentieths of all the ill that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

The use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Benewer will keep the hair from falling out.

A Queer Notion.

Many people think it cheaper to buy 25 cent sizes of a proprietary medicine. But they make a mistake. For instance, Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry contains about eight times the quantity of ordinary 25 cent balsams. Becides it takes a less quantity of Wistar's Balsam to cure a cold. A single dose is often sufficient. For deep seated Colds and comsumption it has proven itself to be the best and quickest cure ever discovered. 845 1 yr.

We call the attention of our readers this week to the extensive advertisement of Freedman Bros. & Co., now grown familiar to you, and to the bargains which they offer. These are really genuine bargains and you have only to make a trial to find them so. The sending out of samples from which to select is an important feature of their business. Write to them for samples of any particular article desired and the samples will come back by return mail. You can then select any one of them and send the money—the price is marked on each sample. We warrant you satisfaction. We speak from experience.

HORICON, WIS., 2d, 1879.
I have been troubled with Kidney Complaint (Diabetes) for six years and without relief until I commenced taking Kidney-Wort. I have taken four boxes, and now consider myself entirely cured. I would recommend it for all such cases.
W. H. THOMPSON,
Engineer C. M. & St. P. R. R.

Mrs. J. B. Clark, Amite, La., writes: "I have used Kidney-Wort, and I wish I could see you to tellyou of the benefit it has been to me. It has relieved me of pain in the side, constipation, piles, and some other complaints. My sleep is now very refreshing, and I am quite well. It is a sure cure."

For Thirty Years.

For thirty years Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has been kept for sale by druggists generally, and in all that time there has not been a single complaint made, but on the contrary the druggists and the people acknowledge it to be the best remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Comsumption; Bronchits, Asthma, and all lung Diseases. 845 1 yr.

Now is the Time.

Don't wait until you are nearly dead and bed-ridden. Don't wait until you have found, to your sorrow, that mineral poisons and alcoholic stimulants, bitters, etc., will aggravate diseases of the blood, kidneys and liver. But now, before another day passes, make haste to procure and use Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It never fails to cure all bloud and skin diseases, all liver complaints and urinary troubles. 845 1 yr.

Housekeeper's
FRIEND.

The above cut does not represent the "House that Jack Built," but shows what some active Yankee genious has brought about to ameliorate the hard lot of the overheated housewife or kitchen maid. It needs but little intelligence to see that it is a Gasoline Stove. To be appreciated it needs to be used but a very few days. For facility of operation, for comfort to the operator, and for light draft on the family exchequer, there is no other stove fit to be named the same day in comparison with it. A few were put into use last season, and created a perfect enthusiasm in the minds and hearts of the women who were fortunate enough to have husbands who were thus mindful of their comfort. We would refer to them here but those gentle ladies might be frightened to see their names in print. We have a full line of the stoves for sale on

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. FROM

REV. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Alban's District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. J. B. KENDALL & CO., Gents: My experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks, when he became better but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring bone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Resdectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Office U. S. Marshall, Western Dist. of Mich.
Kalamazoo, April 15th, 1879.

I received the two bottles of your spavin cure forwarded by express in January last. I am happy to state that it performed all your advertisement called for. In three weeks after I commenced using it the spavin was entirely removed and a valuable horse restored to usefulness.

Verry truly yours, JOHN PARKER.

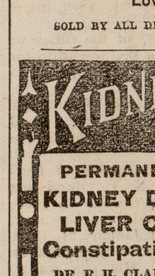
THE BEST REMEDY
FOR
Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.



In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that devel
